CHAMBERS HEAR PEP TALK

'Recreation Your Industry,' Coast Advised

RECREATION and tourism should be the primary objective of the business community of the Coastside, the area's chambers of commerce were told Thursday.

Thomas Ludcke, community development representative for the Pacific Gas and Electric company, declared in what amounted to a pep talk to a combined meeting of the chambers:

"Believe me, as I see this area, I think recreation and tourism is your business. Recreation is a $20-billion-a-year business in the United States. The size of the slice you get depends upon you people right here."

Ludcke spoke to members of the Cabrillo Coastside Chambers of Commerce and the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in Dan's restaurant in Moss Beach.

Sitting in on the gathering were Congressman J. Arthur Younger and T. Louis Chess, a member of the San Mateo county board of supervisors.

THE QUESTION of whether the Coastside should attempt to attract industry — and particularly manufacturing — has become a lively issue.

One city, Pacifica, has asked a citizens' committee to study what use should be made of that city's vacant land and whether industry can be brought in.

Commenting on this, Ludcke observed:

"Manufacturing is not everything. It would be a mistake to think that manufacturing is the only answer to employment problems or economic needs."

He took note of the Coastside's present lack of arterial highways and commented:

"Right now, I don't think you can see any great-sized industry coming in here, for how are they going to get (ship goods) out of here?"

Then, touching on commercial recreation possibilities, he declared:

"I think that here on the coast you have one of the most beautiful areas to lure tourists.

"Recreation should be the biggest industry here for years to come . . . believe me, you don't have to provide the kind of services you do to other industries."

In opening his talk, Ludcke emphasized that the best long-term asset of a community is its "brightest young men and women."

He said a community should plan carefully to provide an attractive area that would keep these young people.

SUPERVISOR CHESS, asked later to comment upon Ludcke's remarks, told the PGE official:

"You've done (in the talk) what we as a board of supervisors have been trying to do for some time." He described Ludcke's speech as "a very challenging talk."

In a few brief remarks before Ludcke spoke, Congressman Younger reviewed some of the Coastside's problems and noted that "we're gradually getting on top of most of them."

Bus Policy Adopted by JESD Unit

Unanimous Vote Follows Little Discussion

By DON MILLER

A new transportation policy that had been the subject of lively debate during three previous sessions was quietly — and unanimously—adopted by the Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees Monday night.

The policy is an amended version of one introduced by trustee O. Wayne Douglas October 30. Douglas subsequently offered the amendments that became a part of the measure.

In essence, the new policy states that the board, in assigning pupils to school, shall do everything possible to eliminate segregation on the basis of ethnic, cultural, racial or religious distinctions.

At the same time, the policy declares that the board does

New School Tax Mulled

A proposal to levy an extra tax on residents of the Jefferson Elementary school district to help finance the cost of a boost in teachers' wages was heard by the district's board of trustees Monday night.

The board took no action on the proposal but decided to study it together with a request from teachers for a seven per cent salary raise.

The tax, called an "override" tax, is permissible under a new law passed by the State Legislature this year.

It allows elementary school districts to tax residents for the higher expense of educating seventh and eighth grade

Train Smacks Truck; Hams, Yams Strewn

Tons of hams, yams, and sides of beef were scattered along a quarter mile of railroad track in South San Francisco Monday when a commute train smacked a grocery truck.

No one was injured in the crash, say South San Francisco police.

Officers report the semi-truck and trailer rig, driven by Clarence M. Stevens, 35, of Chico, was crossing Southern Pacific's main line when smashed by the Del Monte special.

Engine 5600, with Engineer Charles W. Lyons at the throttle, tore the loaded trailers away from the semi-tractor belonging to J&R Trucking of San Francisco.

Police say fresh and smoked hams, melons, yams, squash, sides and quarters of fresh beef, were scattered all over the intersection, the streets, and the railbed.

Commuters reportedly climbed down from the stalled train and stepped back aboard with wrapped hams and other delicacies during the confusion.

Hundreds of spectators gathered, as the collision was heard for several blocks through the the city.

Power Fails In Pacifica

A power failure caused by the overloading of a line blacked out the entire southern portion of Pacifica and a small part of San Bruno late Monday afternoon and night, affecting some homes for almost three hours.

According to Pacific Gas and Electric company officials, a power surge caused a line to part on Crespi drive near Cabrillo highway. A second line snapped near the clubhouse of the Sharp Park rifle range. More than 2400 homes were without power after lines parted at 5:23 p.m.

Utility company officials said that some service was resumed at 6:03 p.m., most power was restored by 7:16 p.m., while some homes were without service until 8:03 p.m.

AFTER 30 YEARS

Jeff Water Well May Be Through

By LOUANNE HEATH

The fate of Jefferson High school's private water system was in doubt this week as a result of testimony and discussion during a meeting of the Jefferson Union High school district board of trustees Monday night.

The high school's well, dug over 30 years ago, has been extended downward to a little more than 400 feet in recent years.

But, according to William Webb, district supervisor of transportation and senior man in the district's corporation yard, it is now failing to function in such a manner as to permit the district to depend upon it for all water needed by the school.

"When it again becomes necessary to turn the outside sprinkler system on," Webb testified, "the well will not be able to pump sufficient water and maintain the pressure necessary to operate the sprinklers."

In addition, Webb stated that the well is now pumping so much sand that it would probably clog the system.

According to district Supt. Edward D. Morgan, expert opinion given when the well was last cleaned indicated that the system, antiquated and shaken innumerable times by earthquakes, is totally out of date.

The district is now in the final building phase at the school and locations of water and power lines are of major concern to the architects.

Reservoir Break Not Likely Here

Daly City Engineer William Chapman said Monday a flood disaster similar to the Los Angeles tragedy Saturday morning is "unlikely to happen here."

Most of the reservoirs in Daly City are underground and spillage caused by an earthquake or something similar would not be sufficient to cause severe damage, he said.

"The type reservoir used in Daly City is the type used a thousand times over throughout the United States," Chapman emphasized.

At least one serious incident with Daly City reservoirs has been recorded in the past. In 1939, the reservoir located above Wellington street overflowed, flooding several homes.

UNTIL ELECTIONS

He'll Finish Remainder of Verducci Term

By RON BATES

The Daly City council Monday night announced it will name Albert E. Polonsky, chairman of the Daly City Personnel board, to fill the council seat being vacated by Mayor Joseph Verducci.

Verducci's resignation is effective January 1. A formal appointment and swearing in of Polonsky is expected at the council's January 13 meeting.

The mayor's term was due to expire in April. Polonsky will fill the council seat until then and is expected to run for re-election.

Polonsky, a corporation attorney with offices in San Francisco, was present Monday when the announcement was made.

"You (the council) make me feel very honored by picking me to fill the vacancy created by Mayor Verducci's resignation," he said. "My happiness is mingled with regret that the city is losing a councilman like Joe Verducci."

Polonsky said he hoped his experience on the personnel board and as an attorney would help him perform a good job.

Councilman Edward Dennis, in making the announcement, said the council was unanimous in its selection of Polonsky.

"The man did not seek the job," he said, "the job sought the man."

Polonsky received his bachelor of science degree in 1947 and his doctorate of law in 1949 from the University of San Francisco. He began his practice in San Francisco in January of 1950, when he was admitted to the California Bar.

He was admitted to practice before the United States Supreme court in May, 1959.

He is past master, Bay City lodge 526, F.&A.M., a member of the San Francisco Body Scottish Rite, a member of the DC Receives $30,000 for Knowles Ave.

Daly City took a little and gave a little in two separate actions concerning roads at a city council meeting Monday.

The council acknowledged receipt of $30,000 from the county board of supervisors as aid for the improvement of Knowles avenue from Mission street to Junipero Serra boulevard.

In the second action, the council designated a portion of White street within Daly City as a "county highway."

According to City Attorney Paul Hupf, the action is required by state code so the county could have right of way to the new road, being built in an unincorporated area to connect Broadmoor to the Westlake Shopping center.

The new road cuts through property being used by the Jefferson Elementary School district as a playfield for the Garden Village Elementary school and the Benjamin Franklin Junior High school.

The district this year lost a court action to bar the county from building the road.

The Broadmoor Community Center at 716 White street and one home will be eliminated by the new road.

Construction is expected to begin in February.

16 Days of No School

North county school children will take a break from books and teacher's looks and prepare for a festive holiday season Friday.

The holiday vacation at both public and Catholic schools will last from Friday through January 6.

1500-Home Plan Aired In Pacifica

Planning Group Gets Oddstad Proposal

Plans for a giant new residential development consisting of both single family homes and apartments on the 500 acres comprising the former Frontier Village at the eastern end of Pedro Valley were outlined by representatives of the Oddstad Development company for Pacifica planning commissioners Monday night.

Company officials said plans call for 1500 new homes, with 250 additional housing units in apartments.

No action was taken as the commission previously had decided to put the proposal over for additional study on January 13. The new tract will be known as Park Pacifica.

The commission, in effect, put a moratorium on any more immediate apartment construction in the hilly Pacific Manor area when they refused permission to Loyd W. Sitts for a setback variance to allow five-foot overhang on second and third stories of apartments proposed for Royal drive, 250-feet north of Manor drive.

North County Notebook

By RON BATES

WELL, THE "COACH" said "arriverducci" to his official duites at last week's Daly City council meeting. The move, he said, is to give him more time to campaign for Alvin Hatch's supervisor's seat. The clincher came last month when in one night he attended five meetings, starting in Daly City and ending in Redwood City.

Verducci, who keeps in shape by working out in the physical education classes he teaches at San Francisco State, will have to give up the presidency of the San Mateo county Council of Mayors at the end of the month because he is stepping out as mayor of Daly City.

The last meeting he will preside over at the Villa Chartier will have San Francisco Mayor-elect John Shelley as the guest speaker.

On an announcement sent out by Verducci's office last month is a cartoon of an obvious politician and his secretary. The caption reads, "Our poll shows 97 per cent of your constituents want you to run. Mayor . . . but not for office."

JEAN FASSLER, the councilwoman from Pacifica, who is running against Verducci for the supervisor's seat, said last week when she heard of Verducci's resignation that she was going to finish out her term.

"My first responsibility is to my elected position in Pacifica," she said. "I want to carry through and allow the people to choose my successor." She has announced she would not seek re-election to her council seat.

One of the reasons she may not want to resign is that the remaining Pacifica councilmen would be able to name her replacement.

And because she and another member of the council have often disagreed with other councilmen on controversial issues, the idea of the opposition appointing her successor probably isn't very palatable.

If fellow councilman George Mason holds true to his announced intention of not seeking re-election, it would leave Pacifica's Mayor Harold Feyge as the only remaining council member who took his seat when Pacifica was incorporated six years ago.

THE JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY school board isn't the only board coming in for criticism in its selection of a replacement for a resigned trustee. Emory Lebonville, president of the Pacifica Republican assembly, took the Laguna Salada board to task at a recent meeting for appointing Bill Henderson to the seat vacated by Duncan Burdick.

Lebonville felt that of the 10 other candidates, the three who ran in an open campaign for the school board should have been given more consideration because they had studied the problems of the schools.

Mrs. Ruth Boudinot, board president, said the board wasn't obligated to explain its decisions and cut off further discussion by adjourning the meeting.

In the case of the Jefferson board, it was one of the trustees, Mrs. Katherine Mullen, who blasted her fellow members. The trustees made their selection by using a form with a number system to grade the candidates.

They didn't discuss among themselves the merits of the eight candidates seeking the post after they had been interviewed, she said. She called the selection method "a compromsie of our integrity."

OPPONENTS of unification by high school districts in the North county were undoubtedly pleased at the result of elections of the county committee on school re-orgainization last month. The members of the 29 San Mateo county school districts in the county decided to reduce the size of the 11-member committee to nine.

Getting the axe was Mrs. Helen Kerwin, one of the leaders in the move to unify by high school districts, and William Platt. It was Mrs. Kerwin who most frequently crossed words with Tom Noonan, chairman of the Jefferson Elemtary School board, at augmented sessions on unification in the Westmoor High school library.

Noonan is one of the primary forces in an effort to split the high school district and unify Jefferson Elementary on its own or with Brisbane and Bayshore.

Laguna Salada would be happy to go along with the split, if it could afford it, and is hoping to postpone unification until the state legislature passes a bill to give the schools more financial aid.

A former member of the county committee, Charles B. Lawler of Redwood City, sharply criticized the election which dropped Mrs. Kerwin and Platt. The school boards seemed "deeply committed to their own perpetuation," he said.

The whole matter of unification will go to the voters and it will be interesting to see if the Jefferson High school district, which is "violently opposed" to a split of its district, can muster enough votes to hold it together.

students than the cost of educating pupils in kindergarten through sixth grades.

The proposal was advanced by Schools Superintendent Richard A. Foster after board members had asked what funds woud be available to pay for higher teachers' salaries recommended by Foster.

The new state law was criticized by board president Thomas Noonan who said the state was shirking its responsibility again.

"I think it would be foolish of any district to take advantage of the bait they put out up there (in Sacramento). They'd be tickled to death to slap it (the tax) on the property owner again."

The board decided to hold a special meeting with teachers' representatives to discuss the proposed higher salaries. The meeting will be held sometime after the holiday season.

In other action, trustee Mrs. Katharine Mullen asked the board not to approve a bill for $34.84 submitted by the Atlas Heating and Ventilating company of San Francisco because she is an employee of the company.

Noonan said that the district attorney would be asked to rule if Mrs. Mullen's position with the company and the district's contract with Atlas represented any conflict of interest.

CITIZEN'S REQUEST

Coast to Study Rumford Stand

Pacifica city councilmen last week agreed to study the possibility of taking a stand on the controversial campaign of the state real estate board to repeal the Rumford fair housing act after two members of the audience urged they take a position.

Dr. David Marvin, a San Francisco State college professor, and a woman member of the audience asserted the issue is of such significance that the council, as the people's representative body, should take a public stand.

Although councilmen present made no commitment, upon a motion of Councilwoman Jean Fassler they agreed to take up the proposal in study session.

The real estate member of the board, George Mason, was absent. He was at a realtors' meeting.

Operators of the Pacific Skies trailer court on Palmetto avenue were given a 60-day extension to screen the court from adjacent property after it was explained that landscape work has been delayed while work is under way to prevent ocean erosion of the court.

A use permit for the court was originally granted on the condition it be landscaped to screen it from nearby homes.

The council accepted the resignation of Chris Bonner from the community safety committee. He is moving from the city.

In an unusually short meeting for the council (the session was adjourned at 9:30 p.m.) the council approved three rezoning applications.

They'll Sing For Shoppers

The Westmoor High school Girls' Glee club and A capella choir will visit the Westlake Shopping center tonight and entertain Christmas shoppers with Christmas carols between 7:30 and 9 p.m.

The group, numbering some 75 members, is under the direction of Howard Loeffler, music director at Westmoor.

Tonight's caroling will be informal. The students, wearing their high school chorus robes, will stroll through the shopping area — caroling as they go.

not favor transporting pupils as the solution to segregation in any form.

The policy, as proposed in its original form, stressed mainly that the board would not favor transporting pupils as a method of eliminating various distinctions among its student population.

It was assailed at subsequent board meetings by a large outpouring of district residents. It was also criticized by trustee Mrs. Katherine Mullen who said it conflicted with state law.

The amended version, however, was quickly passed Monday night after no one in an audience of about 50 persons said he wished to speak.

Mrs. Mullen said she thought the final version was "a much better positive policy as amended by Mr. Douglas than the first one."

Trustee George Perry, who took his seat on the board December 2, declared:

"I think it (the policy) gives this board a solid and reasonable basis for this board to proceed . . . it is, in fact, quite reasonable."

"OPERATION SANTA CLAUS."

Almost sounds like a gimmick, doesn't it. Like a Madison avenue brainstorm, a catch line for a department store Christmas sale, another Christmas pop tune or a new Yuletide play.

Well, it's not any of these, as any aware Daly City good neighbor knows. "Operation Santa Claus" is just about the finest thing that goes on every December here in the North county.

It's a long run hit—now in its 13th year—that should never be allowed to become anything less than top box office. And the way it's greeted each year by a good-will-minded citizenry, there's little liklihood it will.

"Operation Santa Claus"—to elaborate for those of you who are spending your first Christmas in Daly City—has been aptly describted as the city's way of taking care of its own.

"Its own," in this respect, are those unfortunate families that through the adversity of fate would be unable to enjoy the kind of holiday most of us look forward to—were it not for this annual outpouring of heart."

To try and give these down-and-out folk a cheery Yuletide, "Operation Santa Claus" provides turkey dinners, bright, reconditioned bicycles for Junior, refurbishe ddolls for the young lady of the household and a heap of canned goods that should keep the cupboard healthy for a while.

What sort of people are the grateful recipients of "Operation Santa Claus?"

Their names and their addresses, as you would expect, are a closely-guarded secret. When the gifts that are the climax of "Operation Santa Claus" are delivered, even the volunteer firemen who are Santa's messengers that day do not know who the recipients are. The delivery is made to an address only.

THIS YEAR, "Operation Santa Claus" will probably be welcomed by 100 or so needy families—a record.

The Yuletide packages will be delivered, for instance, to a grandmother who is raising her son's four children. The mother died three years ago and the father was killed in an accident last year. He didn't have any life insurance.

The packages could also be going to a father who is temporarily unemployed. Here's what happened in just this sort of circumstance several years ago.

A man who had been a hard and conscientious worker all of his life was laid off from his job just a few months before Christmas. He had six children and, as could be expected, the family savings didn't last long.

A neighbor reported the family's plight to "Operation Santa Claus" volunteer workers and Christmas that year was a merry Christmas after all.

The next year, this man was working again and able to feed and clothe his family. So grateful was he for the kindness shown him the previous Christmas that he sent a check for $25 to "Operation Santa Claus" with the request that some other family be helped—the way his had—in an hour of need.

Or perhaps this holiday season, the Christmas packages will be delivered to an incapacitated husband and wife who are subsisting—and it must be considered just that—on their Social Security check that totals $115 a month.

These are real people and real situations of need. Any community, no matter what its standing on the economic scale, has a number that face a bleak Christmas each year.

You can help these people enjoy the holiday season this year by sending your donations of food, toys or clothing to the Daly City central fire station at 157 Lake Merced boulevard.

Or, you may send cash—which is particularly needed to purchase Christmas dinner turkeys and Yuletide trimmnigs—to "Operation Santa Claus," 6454 Mission street.

It will be your way—and Daly City's way—of taking care of a neighbor that was unable to take care of himself.

CALL ME RATHBONE — the gentleman who is the energetic manager of the Pacifica chamber of commerce has a name, it appears, that strikes somewhat of a cloak and dagger note for some people.

Like Joe Rohl, Daly city manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, who seemed determined to call Basil Gladieux (the Pacifican in question) Basil Rathbone at a joint luncheon meeting of the Cabrillo Chambers of Commerce and the Pacifica Chamber in Moss Beach last week.

At the suggestion of Gladieux, the diners, in turn, had introduced each other and wehn it came to Rohl's turn to introduce Gladieux, he started to say "Basil Rath——" before he realized that he had the actor and Gladieux confused.

Now, it's all right to make that sort of slip once but when you repeat it a few moments later (as Rohl did), then perhaps the name Basil, does automatically mean Rathbone.

WHILE WE'RE in the chamber mood, we'll also report that Gladieux voiced a strong invitation for the Half Moon Bay Chamber of Commerce to rejoin the combined Cabrillo group.

The Cabrillo organization was formed a few months ago with Pacifica, Half Moon Bay and Princeton as members. It was a move, sponsors said, to provide an organization that would promote the Coastside as a whole in addition to individual chamber efforts in each Coastside city.

Half Moon Bay, however, withdrew recently and the word is that HMB members feared the combined group would usurp their reason for existing.

Not so, said Gladieux at last week's Moss Beach session. He declared that the Cabrillo organization would supplement—rather than supplant—the work of the Half Moon Bay chamber.

AND THERE'S a bit of history that seems appropriate in these days of Thornton Beach erosion. It was a mere 30 years ago that negotiations on an early beginning of a $6-million Oceanshore highway in California were under way after a conference in San Francisco.

That highway, as you know, was built, but today, at least in Daly City, it's no more.

It has slid, partly, right into the briny deep. Which, when you stop to think of it, isn't exactly the best kind of planning.

Harry E. Brakebill, a former resident of the Westlake area of Daly City, has been named vice president of San Francisco State college.

His appointment was announced by Paul Dodd, president of the college, after the move was approved by the college's board of trustees.

Brakebill lived in Daly City five years before moving to San Francisco six years ago.

He has been with San Francisco State for the past 15 years. Prior to being named vice president, he served as executive dean. He had held this post since September of 1959.

Brakebill was born in Dinuba, Calif., and moved to Porterville where he graduated from high school.

He graduated from San Jose State college in 1937 and became assistant comptroller there.

WELL, IT'S that time of fall when final "official" football statistics inevitably roll in like bill collectors at a Bobo Olson fight.

Statistics, the backbone of all our national pastimes (depending on whether you're a basketball, football or baseball man) are interesting to read, fascinating to study, and exciting to contemplate—especially if you don't take them seriously.

Because statistics, for all their aura of austerity, scholarliness, and objectivity, are often misleading (which would be the subject for several columns), and usually downright inaccurate.

And football, sorry to say, is a prime victim of this truth. We ought to know having once been a football statistician.

Oh, baseball suffers a little, to be sure. There's still the tendency for the hometown statistician to give a hit to the hometown batter rather than an error to the infielder on a play that could go either way.

And, of course, there's the statistician's unwritten prerogative of making that first hit a clean one, lest a pitcher later lose a no-hitter on a "cheapie." And no one's still quite sure how many strikeouts Rube Waddell had in 1904.

Basketball, too, has its problems at times. On confusing scrambles under the basket, it's sometimes difficult to determine who got the rebound or the tip, or who to credit with the basket when Tom Meschery rings the wrong hoop.

And then you always have the joker keeping track of fouls who buys an ice cream and forgets how many fingers he was holding up.

But football stat men are the granddaddies of the approximaters.

The so-called big time colleges and pro teams, with their many spotters and with even, in some cases, electronic assistance, come about as close as any to accuracy. But the small colleges and high schools scatter prerogative around like politicians' promises.

PROBABLY MORE national or league championships have been won or lost because the stat man spilled coffee on his cap and missed a play or didn't get the binoculars off the pompon girls in time than have been won or lost because of the athlete's performance. We have not mentioned, of course, the myopics or the guys who can't add.

It is a sad commentary, but there are more ways to be inaccurate than to be accurate.

Like the hometown boy who always gets the benefit of the doubt on the half yard. He runs barely over two. So, "might as well give him three," yells the stat man's spotter—especially if that runner is high in league rushing standings.

If it's a muddy-jersey day and along about the third quarter you can't tell the ten-yard poles from a lanky end, and all the yard lines have disappeared, the team leader in rushing always gets the questionable yardage and-or carry credit.

That is, unless it's the last game of the season and the fourth stringer who's never carried the ball is friendly with the spotters. Then, suddenly, unknown Joe Smathers ends his career with 51 yards on five carries.

Then there's the situation where the team and individual stats don't jive when totaled at the end of the game. The hometown team always gets credit for the higher figure and if team stats happen to total more than individuals stats, then the top runner, or passer and receiver, as the case may be, gets the extra yardage. And if individual stats total more than team stats, then the difference is tacked onto team stats.

THEN THERE are the stat tricks that take real finesse. Not many people know, for instance, that if a punt receiver takes the punt, rambles backwards and is tackled for a loss, the stats can be interpreted in two ways.

If, in the scorer's opinion, the impetus or efficiency of the punt caused the punt receiver to retreat, then the punter gets credit for the yardage lost by the receiver. If, however, in the scorer's opinion, it was the runner's choice to advance in reverse, then the punter doesn't get credit for the yardage, and so forth. You can imagine the flexibility employed in that one!

Now you can understand, we hope, how Hurricane Hurley from Rhode Island State Dentist college can run 2113 yards to lead the nation's small colleges in rushing and still be ignored by the wise old pro scouts.

You figure Hurricane picked up about 40 on "gimmies" ("Give him the half yard"), 50 on rainy days, another five because of his engaging personality, 25 in order to balance books, 38 because a certain pompon girl continually did provocative routines, 45 because the spotter sees 40-90 with binoculars, 27 because the sloppy stat man is always spilling coffee and another 55 because he flunked arithmetic.

This all adds up to 285 yards, which means that Hurricane really rushed for only 1808 yards, actually placing him third in the nation.

Which means, ethically, that he still leads, because if mistakes for the nation's top two small college runners were added, it would probably be found that they're still running behind Hurricane.

AFTER SCANNING the 49er draft list, we can see now how they could afford to get rid of men like Tittle, Morze, Dove, Morrall, Owens, Henke, Toneff, Tubbs, and a few other such nonentities.

By golly, you draft fellas like Hagood Clarke (Florida), Howard Mudd (Hillsdale), Fred Polser (East Texas), Dennis Almquist (Idaho), James Griffin (Grambling) and Cornel Gordon (North Carolina A.T.), and who needs the Tittles, Toneffs, Doves, et al.

Tognetti, Davis Win S.S.F. Football Awards

South San Francisco Warrior seniors Jerry Tognetti and Ron Davis this year are winners of the coveted Warrior football blanket, presented every year by Santini and Roccucci, and the Cahill sportsmanship award, respectively.

Tognetti, a starting center for the South San Franciscans for the past two years, has been a team leader and an outstanding performer on both offense and defense.

He was named to the coaches' All-North Peninsula league squad this year.

Tognetti, besides performing well on the gridiron, has also achieved scholastic honors.

Davis worked out of the end posts for the Warriors in 963 and was outstanding on defense. Davis, according to El Camino Colt head coach Bob Sexton, was the man who kept the Colt's offensive thrust bottled up.

Jeff Heads for 'Altar'

Veterans to Aid Indians' Title Hopes

By RON BATES

THIS MAY be the year the Jefferson Indians go to the altar.

Coach Mike Orlich says he's tired of having his team be the bridesmaid in the race for the basketball crown.

Orlich's last championship team was in 1954 when Jefferson tied Capuchino for the title in the old Peninsula league. The year previous, the Indians had it all to themselves.

Since then the Indians have always been close but not close enough. The veteran coach is anxious for a chamiponship.

The Indians forfeited games to Terra Nova and El Camino last season when guard Gary Mendoza was declared because of a residence change. Otherwise, Jefferson would have had a 7-3 record — enough to tie South San Francisco for second place spot behind Westmoor.

"Jeff will end up higher in the league standings than last year," Orlich maintains.

One player who may make the difference is forward Steve Willis, Jefferson's top scorer last year and a member of the All-NPL team.

Willis, a senior, is student body president at Jefferson and a member of the California Scholarship federation.

Orlich will bank heavily on the 6-1 forward.

"He's a good shooter, drives a lot, works the boards and is a pretty good all-around player."

ORLICH WILL have two other veterans to help the Jefferson cause.

One is Mendoza who had a 12-point average in the two games he played for the Indians before he was declared ineligible. The 5-11 guard is a good outside shooter.

Mendoza scored 16 and Willis tallied 19 in the Indians' first outing against a tall Balboa team. The Indians were edged in the last minute. Nonetheless, Orlich says he was impressed with his charges.

The other veteran is center Jerry Sullivan, a 6-4 center, who weighs 200 pounds. "If he works out on the boards, we'll be all right," Orlich notes.

Tom Grennie, a reserve on last year's team is tabbed for action also.

ORLICH WILL have some players up from Jefferson's championship lightweight team who look promising.

Forward Ed Larios, a member of the All-NPL lightweight first team is expected to help on the boards. Larios was also an All-League end on the Indians' football team this year.

Two other all-leaguers from the lightweights are Al Steller and Bob Molassi, a brother of Jeff's leading scorer in 1956.

Also moving up from the Indians' championship lightweights are Jim Belfrage, Bill Jones, Farnk Covetovac and Ken Anderson.

Orlich also has two good sophomore prospects in Stan Patterson and Dan Cafferetta.

"Right now the second stringers are giving the front runners a good run for their money," Orlich says.

He adds that by the time Jeff opens the NPL season against South San Francisco January 17, there may be some changes.

One strong spot for Jefferson may be at center. Jim Jurard, a 6-5 senior transfer student from San Francisco, has been pushing Sullivan for a starting slot, Orlich says.

The Indians' overall shooting is a lot better this year, Orlich comments. "We'll have balanced scoring on the inside and outside."

ORLICH FIGURES the Indians' toughest competition will come from Westmoor. Terra Nova, he thinks, will be the "dark horse" of the league because of Marty Coil and Rich Shaefer, who he describes as good, big players.

One things for sure, Orlich says, "anybody who wants the title will have to beat us to win it. We have a good club if we jell."

Jeff took part in the tough Riordan tournament last weekend and will enter the Palo Alto tournament this weekend.

Orlich figures the tournament pressure will give the team the needed incentive to get ready for league play.

Taking part in the two tournaments, however, cuts down on the practice games the Indians can take part in, because of a 20-game season limit in the NPL. Orlich thinks the limit should be stretched to 25 games a season.

The Indians' first league game against South San Francisco will be tough. The San Francisco Warriors can be expected to atone for last year's 57-42 upset by the Indians. The loss cost the Warriors a co-championship with the Rams.

One pin kept Greg Campbell from 600 club membership as he led the Blue Monday Scratch league, shooting a 599 series with a 215 high game.

Another new 600 shooter is Doug Bartigal who led the 805 Scratch league last week with a 211 game and 609 series.

The Westlake Bowl team in the Bay Area Travel Queens continues to lead the league by a wide margin, currently holding a record of 15 wins with only three losses. Team members are Mary Whiteside, Jerri Morris, Cindy Davidian, Jan Drummond, Toni Pinelli and Lynn Nolli.

4 Rams Named to All-County Team

By RON REID

Westmoor High school has placed four players on the 1963 All-County football team, chosen by the Post-Times staff of sports writers and correspondents.

The Rams, champions of the North Peninsula league for the second consecutive year, thus dominated selections to the blue-ribbon 11-man squad.

Mid-Peninsula league title-holder Capuchino placed three players on the team.

Other schools represented include Serra, Burlingame, San Mateo and Sequoia. Each placed one man.

For the first time in several years, the South Peninsula Athletic league had the fewest number of players named to the All-County team.

Principal reason for the fewer number of SPAL All-County grid stars was the dominance in that elague this year of Palo Alto and Cubberly, which are both Santa Clara county schools.

But Gary Beban of Sequoia, the SPAL's sole member of the team, was named All-County Player of the Year, the highest award made by any county newspaper.

He was also the only player in the county to make the team for the second straight year.

Beban, the total offense record holder of the SPAL, thus became the third consecutive SPAL delegate to win Player of the Year honors.

Previous winners have included Sequoia's Mike Otis in 1960 and 1961 and Carlmont's Chuck Hunt last year.

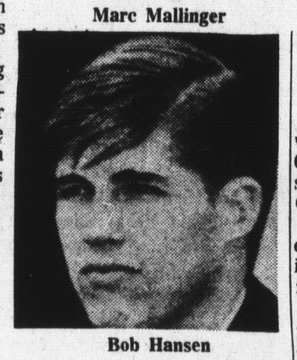
First-year coach Gordy Young of Capuchino was selected All-County Coach of the Year for his performance in directing the Mustangs to the Mid-Peninsula league title and an 8-1 season's record.

Westmoor, which has yet to lose a North Peninsula league football game in the two-year history of that league, placed quarterback Bruce Hix, halfback Dave Mahoney, end Marc Mallinger and tackle Bob Hansen on the team.

Bruce Hix

Dave Mahoney

Marc Mallinger



Bob Hansen

Each was greatly instrumental in Westmoor's 8-1 over-all season and 5-0 record in a highly improved league this year. Westmoor's only loss came at the hands of Riordan early in the season.

Capuchino delegates were end Gary Smith, tackle Fred Wenger, and halfback Tom Browne. Wenger and Browne won respective Lineman and Back of the Year honors in the Mid-Peninsula league while Smith was the MPL's leading reeciver.

Interior linemen on the All-County squad also included guard Len Lubrano of Burlingame; Tim Stanley, San Mateo center, and defensive ace Pat dens of Serra, the only underclassman on the team.

Stanley played outstanding two-way football for a San Mateo squad that was not out of the MPL title race until the final week of the season while among the fiercest tacklers on the Peninsula this year.

All turned in consistently fine performances in earning All-league honors during the season.

Anchored by the 230-pound Wenger, the line of this year's All-County team averages out at an even 200 pounds, an average of 14 pounds per man bigger than last year's team.

In the backfield, both Beban and Hix were field generals who could perform any task while Browne and Mahoney were the best running backs of their respective leagues.

CSM Grapplers Beat San Jose

The College of San Mateo wrestlers opened up their 1963-64league season last week by successfully downing San Jose City college, 21-19.

Walt Wenger and Jim Haerem lead the defending champion Bulldogs with pins in the final two matches.

NPL BASKETBALL

Lightweights Vie in Meet

The First Annual Jefferson Lightweight Basketball tournament begins today at Jefferson High school.

Today's action pits Westmoor against Terra Nova at 3:15 p.m. and Carlmont against South San Francisco at 4:30 p.m.

Tomorrow, the Oceana Sharks take on Jefferson and San Mateo will vie with El Camino.

According to tournament director Mic Kelly, the Jefferson tourney will be the only lightweight tournament north of Menlo Atherton, this year.

Kelly said the six schools of the North Peninsula League and two oustide teams will take part in the four-day tournament.

Carlmont is one of the strongest teams in the South Peninsula league, Kelly said, and is expected to be a title contender.

The other invited team, San Mateo, took the Mid-Peninsula league lightweight title last year.

"This is an effort on our part to build up lightweight basketball in the North Peninsula area," Kelly said. "We hope to give an added incentive for smaller players to turn out for the sport."

Kelly said the six schools of the North Peninsula League and two outside teams will take part in the four-day tournament.

Carlmont is one of the strongest teams in the South Peninsula league, Kelly said, and is expected to be a title contender.

The other invited team, San Mateo, took the Mid-Peninsula league lightweight title last year.

Kelly said trophies will be given to the first and second place teams and to the winner of the consolation game. Players named to a ten-man All-Tournament team also also will be given trophies.

The championship game will be held in the Jefferson gymnasium at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The consolation game will begin at 1 p.m. Two other games will be played at 10 and 11:30 a.m.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am a widower and have two boys in their teens. I'm very worried about the oldest boy. He is getting into trouble and hanging around with a group of dirty-mouthed and low class group of kids who have been in trouble. He has become defiant and disobedient.

I am an executive and therefore have given my boys more than most boys have ever dreamed of having. How can I convince him he is doing wrong. I feel I have failed. Where have I failed and what can I do?

A Father

Dear Father:

It may be your giving has gotten out of hand. You know, you can't buy affection. It may be that rather than give, you should have shown. Shown fatherly attention.

You refer to "a group of dirty-mouthed and low class" kids.

Listen, dad, I know a lot of upper class kids who can put the lower class kids to shame with their dirty mouths.

Where have you failed? Raising children is more than giving them material things. If you are an executive, undoubtedly you are very busy and have had to squeeze in your family life.

This is true is so many cases. This is unfortunate but more the rule than the exception. So, your boys are looking for some attention.

Your oldest son has found it in the companionship of boys who will share his thrill seeking. What to do?

Go on a vacation with your boys, alone, camping, or anything they might suggest. Discuss it and take a vote and go, let nothing stand in your way or don't let anything change your plans.

Maybe some people think TOGETHERNESS is not important but it is essential to a family's happiness. In your case, it is a necessity. Don't you plan it, let the boys plan it.

Second suggestion: Delegate more responsibility to the boys for chores and household duties and pay them for it. But not unless the work is checked by you upon completion.

You can never imagine. It will show you trust them and need them. Let them know how you feel. Let them know how you need them. They will come through for you. Don't put it off. Start today before you lose them tomorrow.

Teen-agers: If you have an issue or problem you'd like to have me discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of The Post.

FBLA Group Slates Sale

The Future Business Leaders of America club at Terra Nova High school will sell candy for a two-week period in February to raise money to send delegates to a state convention of FBLA in Fresno in April.

As a community project, the group will turn over 25 per cent of the net profits of the sale to the American Field Service organization to help bring a foreign exchange student to Terra Nova.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

THE GREAT number of activities that are always crammed into the final few days before Christmas can add considerably to that harrassed feeling that most of us have come to associate with the holiday season. But the gay hustle and bustle is an essential part of the ritual.

During the nippy, busy days of December, even the palest of cheeks reflect a hint of red poinsettias, normally soulful eyes twinkle like Christmas tree lights betraying an inner glow of happiness, and, on most faces, there are smiles as wide as holly wreaths.

It is all part of the marvelous Christmas tradition, the poinsettias, the trees with their sparkle and glitter, the welcoming wreaths and the melange of holiday activities. None of us would want to miss any of it. Christmas wouldn't be complete!

Your Christmas definitely won't be complete if you don't attend one of the two presentations of "Christmas, Its Carols, Customs and Legends," at the Daly City War Memorial Community center tomorrow and Friday evenings.

With her usual deft touch, Patti Stolz, director of the Belletones and the Daly City Community chorus, has concocted a delightful pot pourri of song, dance, and drama with a dash of history added for international flavoring.

The program will feature the music of the Belletones and the chorus and various other divisions of the Recreation department will be incorporated into the program's—dancing and dramatic segments—all neatly interwoven and held together by narrator Edward Tomasello.

Mrs. Stolz has been very clever to arrange the program to include something to please the taste of almost every music lover. The script calls for such extremes as a 14th century German carol and "Santa's Cha Cha Cha," to be conducted by Mrs. Santa Claus!

Between the two "poles" will be included much of the lovely music we have come to expect this season of the year and many things, very beautiful, that will be excitingly new and different. In the latter classification is "Goodnight World," the theme song of the show, which was written by Belletone Memory Gomez.

For an evening that is bound to be a pure delight, mark your agenda now and plan to attend.

DECEMBER is the time for family reunions and the Paul Druesne family of Pacifica is looking forward to a visit from son Micheal and his bride of less than a year, Kathy.

The younger Druesnes were able to be home only one day during the Thanksgiving week but it was a time of much excitement since this was the first time Mike had been to Pacifica since his return from an eight months tour of duty with the Marines in the South Pacific. He has now been assigned to the El Toro Marine station near San Diego for the remaining 15 months of his enlistment.

MRS. CARMEL PAYTON is the new president of the Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority in Pacifica and she has been eagerly carrying on club activities since her installation.

The gala husbands' and wives' gathering will be held Saturday.

IN THE PARTY MOOD, it's not too early to make your reservations for the annual New Year's Eve party being given by Westlake Catholic women in the Our Lady of Mercy Parish hall.

The party will feature a lavish buffet and dancing, according to Mrs. Jack Rose. Mrs. Rodney Page is party chairman. Reservations are available by phoning Mrs. Laurence McCaffrey at PL 6-4967.

N. County Delegates to Attend Witnesses' Meet

Some 180 members of the Daly City and Pacifica congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will be delegates to the Witnesses' semi-annual circuit assembly at the Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco this weekend.

The three-day training program which begins Friday evening, is expected to be attended by nearly 2000 delegates from San Francisco and the Peninsula.

William Marks, presiding minister of the Daly City group, remarked: "The object of the convention is to equip everyone of the preaching fellowship of Jehovah's Witnesses in the practical use of the Bible as a help in fortifying the spiritual morale of people in our community."

His remarks ended the weekly ministry-development class held at the Kingdom hall, 3435 Alemany boulevard, Daly City.

Because of the convention, congregation meetings will not be held during the assembly weekend.

The convention will consist of Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations to train delegates in the ministry.

Highlighting Saturday's program will be a baptism service conducted for new ministers.

The conference will reach a highpoint Sunday at 3 p.m., when Arthur L. Borchardt, district supervisor for Northern California, speaks on the subject, "The Bible Triumphs in a Scientific World."

All sessions are open free to the public.

Youth Will Go Caroling

The Episcopal Young churchmen of St. Martin's Episocpal church in Westlake will gather outside the homes of shut-ins in the community and sing traditional carols Friday night.

After the caroling, they will return to the church for the churchmen's annual Chistmas dance.

Yesterday, several members of the group joined representatives of a brother group at the Church of St. Francis in San Francisco to decorate a ward at the Laguna Honda Home for the Aged.

A Christmas Message

(Editor's Note: On behalf of the Daly City Ministerial association, the Rev. Edward A. Wolfe, minister of Wesley Methodist church, has written this Christmas message:

By REV. E. A. WOLFE

THE MEANING of Christmas comes to us in various interpretations. Christmas may be painted, as Correggio painted it in his "Holy Night" and Raphael in his "Sistine Madonna."

It can be put into music as Handel did it in his oratorio "The Messiah," and Phillip Brooks in his "O Little Town of Bethlehem." It may be sung or played upon the organ or the violin. It may be felt and experienced but it can not be fully spoken.

At this season of the year it is well that we read agan the scripture passages as given in the second chapter of the Gospel of St. Matthew, St. Luke and the second and ninth chapters of Isaiah.

In the Gospel of St. Luke it is recorded that the angel said "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be for all the people."

IT WAS good news to the Jews inasmuch as Jesus was to bring peace to the world. It was good news inasmuch as the Jews were in bondage and believed that the Prince of Peace would liberate them.

At the time Jesus was born, there were possibly 100 million people on earth and the Roman Empire counted 30 million of them.

It was Jesus pitted against Caesar. Today, however, we look upon Caesar's armies as history. His empire has crumbled his influence is almost nil.

But the things of which Jesus spoke—those intangible ideals, those words of hope—have outlasted the material world in which they were spoken and have grown stronger with every century. This is the ground for the hope that is born again each Christmas day.

IN SPITE of so recent happenings in America, the ardor of our spirits has not been dampened. The truth of the Son of God has been so deeply impregnated into the warp and woof of our religious life that we can say with Job of old, "Though He slay me, yet will I worship Him."

Our day is drawing us nearer to the Son of God than ever before. Let come what may, we shall still cling to the idea that Jesus is "THE WAY," and "Whosoever climbs up some other way is a thief and a robber."
a thef and a robber."

The reign of Christ shall be realized when love grows stronger than hate; when men will forgive rather than seek revenge; when men shall seek the welfare of others rather than deprive them of their rights; when men shall seek life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for all mankind. Christ was born and died that all this might become a reality in the world.

BETTER BUSINESS

Racketeers Love Christmastime

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau's "Barometer"

TO DATE the predictions for "Merry, Merry 1963 Christmas Season" have been more than realized. However, with good business conditions and consumers wealthy and inclined to spend freely, racketeers suddenly appear on the Christmas scene and take full advantage of the Yuletide spirit.

The list of schemes devised by these slick operators to relieve the Christmas shopper of his dollars is almost endless and range from phony charity appeals to deceptive sales practices.

Every year Better Business Bureaus throughout the country put out loud warnings concerning these schemes as both consumer and ethical merchants suffer.

MOST mail order houses are honest, but there are some who claim to be wholesale houses and who issue slick catalogues with merchandise offered at a 40 per cent discount. This 40 per cent discount is usually 40 per cent of the padded price of the original.

Certain mail order promoters advertise toys with glowingly advertised descriptions and with wildly exaggerated claims of performance. Balloons are advertised as "rubber animals;" playhouses are made of cardboard; cardboard cutouts are advertised as "dolls."

Shops open up overnight and disappear as quickly on Christmas Eve. The customer can only complain to an empty store if the walking doll did not walk because there was no place provided for the necessary battery, or the mechanical dog did not bark after the salesman, who had made the dog appear to be barking, has left town.

THE OVERLOADED postman has to deliver tons of unordered merchandise, much of it with a built-in charity appeal. The person who receives such merchandise, often cheap ties and cards, is under no obligation to either pay for or to return such unordered goods. Much of this merchandise mailed in the name of charity is sent by some unscrupulous manufacturer who has bought the charity's name for an infinitesimal reward.

Better Business Bureau warns you to deal only with reputable dealers at Christmas as you should do throughout the entire year. A reputable dealer will stand behind his merchandise and will exchange it if there is a good reason for exchanging.

Recreation Unit Wants New Policy

The Daly City recreation commission has decided to establish a policy discouraging the use of department-sponsored groups to solicit funds for outside organizations.

The commission, at its regular November meeting in the War Memorial Community center, instructed department head Charles Vincent to draft the wording of the new policy for action at its next meeting.

The policy will forbid organizations to use such groups as the Hi-Fi Teen club and the Junior Teen clubs to sell raffle tickets or to collect money for outside clubs without the written permission of Vincent and the recreation commission.

The new policy will not affect drives with a specific community interest, such as the upcoming "Operation Santa Claus" or the Mary's Help hospital fund drive, Vincent said.

Vincent said he requested the policy decision from the commission after a group approached him on the possibility of the teen groups selling raffle tickets.

The commission accepted preliminary plans for a large tot lot and tennis courts in Westlake park.

Vincent and Assistant City Engineer Edward Dominion have been inspecting tot-lots in nearby cities to come up with plans for a play area "over and above anything the city has now."

The plans call for construction of four tennis courts in the area—two during this present fiscal year and two sometime in the future, Vincent sadi.

Also included in the plans for Westlake park, Vincent said, is the movement of a soccer field from the northwest corner of the park to its center.

The department plans to operate two smaller size soccer courts closer to Fernando Rivera school.

The commission gave the Westlake Kennel club permission to use Marchbanks park for its annual dog show next year on the condition the club take steps to correct problems that it said existed in the last show.

In other action, the commission:

Approved use of the War Memorial Community center for a regional folk dance festival June 14. Sponsors will be the El Camino Reelers club.

Nell Norton's Christmas Menu

'T'WAS THE NIGHT before Christmas . . .

And all through the house is the hurrying and scurring of the last minute preparations for Christmas day. On the night before Christmas in the New England states, it's traditional to serve oyster stew for dinner. Since this is a very simple dish and on that busy night before Santa arrives an easy meal is just what we need, why not serve this traditional meal?

OYSTER STEW

6 cups milk
1 quart oysters
¼ cup butter
1½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons celery salt
Dash pepper

Scald milk; heat oysters in their own liquor for about five minutes or until edges begin to curl. Add butter seasonings and hot milk. Serve immediately. Serves six.

CHRISTMAS MENU

Fresh Fruit Cocktail
Turkey
Old-Fashioned Sausage Dressing
Gravy
Bean and Corn Pudding
Mashed Potatoes
Sunshine Carrots
Fresh Cranberry Sauce
Assorted Christmas Cookies

With the beautiful assortment of fresh fruits on the market these days, you are able to concoct the most glamerous fruit cocktails ever. Don't forget to add frozen strawberries for color and flavor.

The star of the Christmas meal is the turkey. Fortunately, he's not a temperamental star. In fact, each year it seems that he becomes easier and easier to cook and comes to the table more deliciously brown and tender. We can't change his outside appearance but we can dress him differently inside with this stuffing.

OLD-FASHIONED SAUSAGE STUFFING

1 (1-pound) bag bulk sausage
4 large tart apples
½ cup chopped celery
2 teaspoons salt
8 cups (dried or toasted) bread cubes
1 small minced onion
½ cup milk

Brown sausage bits in a skillet until cooked. (Lightly browned.) Core and chop apples into ½-inch pieces.

Combine all the ingredients, including sausage drippings, and mix together thoroughly. Stuff fowl loosely.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

COMBINING corn and beans in a casserole gives a new twist to two old favorites. And this has the added attraction of cooking in the oven, leaving the top of your stove clear for other doings.

BEAN AND CORN PUDDING

1 can (1 pound) cut blue lake green beans
1 cup light cream or half and half
1 cup milk
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 can (8 ounces) cream style corn
½ cup coarsely chopped onion
1 Tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon salt
Dash tabasco
½ cup grated American cheese

Drain beans. Place in buttered 1½ quart baking dish. Scald cream and milk. Mix with all remaining ingredients except cheese; pour over beans. Sprinkle with cheese.

Set baking dish in pan containing warm water to depth of about one inch. Bake in 350 degree oven 45 to 50 minutes, or until top is golden brown and custard appears firm around edges.

Remove from oven and, if firmer custard is desired, let stand in pan of hot water a few minutes before serving. Makes six to eight servings.

TO ADD COLOR as well as taste to your meal, try these carrots fixed in this manner. Whenever I serve them they gain high praise from my guests. This does take a little longer to cook, but you can do all ahead. And just reheat the sauce when you are ready to add the cooked carrots.

SUNSHINE CARROTS

1 bunch of carrots
1 orange rind
Three-fourths cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
One-third cup of water

Scrape the carrots and cut into long thin strips. Cut the orange rind in the same manner. Cover the orange rind with cold water and bring to a boil for one minute. Drain and repeat three times.

Prepare a thick syrup with three-fourths cup sugar and one-third cup water. Let orange rind simmer in syrup about 45 minutes.

Cook carrots in boiling salted water until tender, season with butter. Add cooked carrots to orange syrup and simmer 10 minutes.

WHAT WOULD turkey be without cranberry sauce? The two go together like—well—like turkey and cranberry sauce. As an extra side dish for the turkey, this fresh cranberry sauce is very good. And it's texture and tartness add much to the meal.

FRESH CRANBERRY SAUCE

4 cups fresh cranberries
2 oranges, quartered and seeded
2 cups sugar

Put the cranberries and oranges (rinds, too) through food chopper, coarse cut. Add sugar to chopped mixture and store in refrigerator. Makes one quart.

An added note: If you freeze the cranberries before you grind them, they won't be so wet and juicy.

Now for the dessert. As you faithful readers know, I am very fond of making and serving cookies. And after a large Christmas dinner, they offer just the right touch that is needed.

This recipe comes from Mrs. Marian Hardin of 166 Morningside drive, Daly City. She writes that it is a favorite of hers. With the added touch of the currant jelly in the enter, they are a pretty and most delicious dough can be handled easily. Start oven at 350 degrees.

JEWEL COOKIES

½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg yolk
1 cup sifted flour

Cream butter and gradually add the brown sugar, working in well. Mix in the egg yolk and stir in cake flour. Chill in refrigerator for 30 minutes or until the dough can be handled easily. Star oven at 350 degrees.

Shape 24 balls of dough and dip each into slightly beaten egg white. Roll cookie balls in chopped walnuts (approximately 1 cup), place on cookie sheet. Bake five minutes. At this point, slip a thimble on your finger and press a hole or cavity in the top of each cookie. Bake 10 minutes longer. Remove cookies from sheet, cool and drop a bit of currant jelly into the thimble mark of each one.

(Nell Norton has more Christmas cookie recipes today in her regular Sugar 'n' Spice column.)

Terra Nova Topics

By CATHIE REED

CHRISTMAS to the ordinary Terra Novan, contrary to common belief, doesn't mean only a very long vacation — although that does enter into it—but it has its spiritual aspects, too. The Tigers, just like everybody else, have a serious side and an appreciation for receiving and giving gifts.

Right now, everyone at Terra Nova is busy buying gifts for friends and relatives and trying to add their share of joy to those around them. Take the faculty, for instance.

Our happy faculty is being normally mean to us again. A certain English teacher had rather amusing results when she asked her students to write sonnets ending in given words—such as "fern" and "learn." Also, a prominent social studies teacher has tortured his students by having them give oral reports about various subjects, such as "Freedom to Travel," "U. S. Foreign Policy" and many others.

CONSTRUCTION at Terra Nova, something we can't ignore, is progressing rapidly. The outline of the third floor is clearly marked by steel beams and the foundation of the girls' gym is in place. The builders — with real Christmas spirit — made a nice tunnel for us to walk through, so a steel grid wouldn't squash anybody.

Some contend that helmets would have been better but I think that they felt that helmets protect only your head, a very unimportant part of your body—according to size, of course.

All school classes and several clubs and groups are doing their part to add to the Christmas spirit. The senior class is busy preparing for the Christmas dance, "Winter Wonderland," to be held Friday. The FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) has the most popular and populous club in the school.

Westmoor Whirl

By SHERRY ROSEN

Rudolph the red-eyed ham
Has a very tear-stained face.
He wasn't a good boy this year
And fears that Santa won't visit his place.

All of the other students
Used to laugh at his jokes in class.
But teachers didn't think him funny.
He was labeled by instructors a sass.

Then one sunny winter morn,
Rudy's buddy called to say,
Let's go bowling and see a movie,
The boys weren't in school that day.

Often Mother had to yell,
"Rudy with your mind so bright,
Don't be so lazy
Do some homework for once tonight."

In algebra class his cheeks bulged with gum.
He seldom did anything but talk to his chum.
But when he was asked a mathematical sum,
All of a sudden, Rudy was mum.

At home his clothes were strewn on the floor
His mother's orders he'd often ignore.
And what is worse he felt no rue
Upon arriving home in the morning at two.

He sauntered in late after class had begun,
Teachers' praise he hasn't won.
And a grievous offense he confessed,
He once borrowed an answer from another's test.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

You readers have responded most generously to our call for new Christmas cookie recipes. So we'll continue with ideas.

First, however, we'll repeat a recipe we had in last week's column because of a typographical error.

CHOCOLATE NUT DROPS

1 and three-fourths cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
two-thirds cup shortening (soft)
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, unbeaten
4 cup mil, (sweet or sour)
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
½ cup nuts, chopped

Sift soda, salt and flour together in a large mixing bowl. Add the shortening, sugar, egg, milk and vanilla and mix until well blended. (If you are using an electric mixer, beat at medium speed about a minute and a half. Next add the melted and cooled chocolate and nuts. Beat about one minute more.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven about 15 minutes. Cool makes five dozen cookies.

A TRADITIONAL Christmas cookie in the home of Mrs. Fran Saunders, 368 Higate avenue, Daly City is this Lebkuchen. Fran tells me that her mother came from Germany and has made this cookie at Christmsa time for many, many years.

LEBKUCHEN

¼ cup candied orange peel
¼ cup candied lemon peel
¼ cup citron
Put this fruit through a food grinder, very fine
1½ cups walnuts, coarsely ground in food grinder
three-fourths cup honey
1¼ cup sugar
2 lemon, juice and grated rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 teaspoon almond extract
4 cups sifted flour
Dash salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Combine fruit and nuts. Heat honey and sugar, (don't boil) add lemon juice and grated rind. Cool. Add to this mixture the nuts, candied fruits and vanilla and almond flavoring.

Sift dry ingredients together in a large bowl. Put a hole in the middle of the sifted flour and pour the liquid mixture into this hole. Work with your hands until well mixed. Cover and store in refrigerator for 2 days. (This allows the seasonings to blend and mellow).

Roll out on lightly floured board about ¼-inch thick. Cut with cookie cutters and bake in 350-degree oven 10 to 15 minutes. Watch them closely so they don't get too brown. Check at 10 minutes as ovens vary.

Remove cookies from oven while they are warm. Frost them with this frosting:

1 cup powderd sugar (sifted)
2½ tablespoons warm water
1 drop almond extract (that's right, just a drop) food coloring (if you wish)

In last week's column, we mentioned that many people liked chocolate and felt that no cookie collection was complete without chocolate cookies. Evidentally many of my readers agree, for here are two recipes that call for chocolate:

CHOCOLATE CRUMBLES

½ cup oil
4 squares melted unsweetened chocolate
2 cups sugar
2 cups flour
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons baking powder
1 cup powdered sugar

Mix oil, melted chocolate and two cups sugar. Blend in one egg at a time until well mixed. Add vanilla, sifted flour, salt and baking powder. Set batter aside or put in refrigerator for several hours. Now drop by teaspoonfuls into bowl of powdered sugar. Shape into balls. Bake at 350 degrees from 12 to 15 minutes on greased cookie sheet. Place the cookies two inches apart.

THIS RECIPE for Toffee Squares comes from Mrs. Nonie Cannon, 12407 McCune avenue, Los Angeles, and they are delicious. But they do not keep as long as some other cookies, so I'd advise you to make them only a day or two before serving.

TOFFEE SQUARES

1 cup butter
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg yolk
1 bar milk chocolate (8 ounces)

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolk and vanilla and sifted flour. Spread thinly on cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Melt chocolate and spread on cookies. Cut into squares.

Everyone likes a fruit bar cookie and Mrs. Ceil Collin of 1674 Thirty-second avenue, San Francisco, is no exception. So she sent along this recipe.

CHINESE CHEWS

½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon baking powder
2-3 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup sliced dates
1 cup chopped nuts

Sift first five ingredients. Beat eggs likhtly. Gradually add the two-thirds cup sugar, beat well. Add nuts and dates and melted butter. Add dry ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Bake in 9-inch, greased square pan in 350-degree oven about 30 minutes.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

by Lloyd Johnson

Sinaloa Posada Starts Monday Evening, Dec. 16

Luz Garcia announces: Monday evening, Dec. 16, will mark the start of the Sinaloa Pinata-breaking ceremony, one of the most colorful events at Christmas time.

The entire Sinaloa cast parades about the club carrying candles and singing Yule Day tunes of old Mexico. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the cast gathers on the dance floor for the breaking of the Pinata, which hangs from above and is full of goodies. When lowered, the customers are invited to participate in the breaking fun. A guest is blindfolded, given a stick and the swinging begins. The Pinata is maneuvered about by a rope—making it difficult to break. However, at a given time a "hit" is made and the Sinaloa is showered with fruits nuts and candies from the broken Pinata. Also a coupon good for a bottle of champagne.

Luz Garcia

The "breaking of the Pinata" which will be a nightly affair right up until Christmas, has been a Sinaloa tradition since the cantina opened many years ago.

GEORGE MARDIKIAN has prepared his yearly Christmas message which will be published in The Times in a few days. As always, I look forward to the words that are good for the hearts of all true Americans by the Omar Khayyam's restaurant boss. Candlelight dining at the New Tivoli is like spending an evening in old Italy. The food and atmosphere are that authentic. . . Frank Torres' Montara Beach Hotel now has two entrances—one, a garden approach (Fannie Torres designed it) which contains more gadgets than a pawn shop. One of my best take out food tips here: Papas Rellenas, a Peruvian dish. One order and you're a steady customer from there on out. . . . At this time of the year the . . . Shopping on the Peninsula? Arrange your schedule to be near Five Points in Redwood City during the noon hour — and try Pancho's Mexican Cafe for lunch. This award-winning little come-as-you-are restaurant is a delight both for decor and choice, south-of-the-border delicacies.

G. Mardikian

LARRY BERTOLUCCI reports: Banquet reservations are still available at the swank South San Francisco Bertolucci's French-Italian restaurant which is owned and operated by Larry and his sister Lola. The Bertolucci family has been famous for serving superb cuisine since 1928. Raviolis, cannelloni, and tortolini hand made by Mama Bertolucci are popular requests . . . Ray Bolger, one of the greatest acts in show business, opened last night in the Sparks Nugget, in Nevada. His amazing dancing technique to rhythmic tunes will give you a new slant in the dance field . . . A holiday treat for the youngsters is set for the Sunday-before-Christmas at the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley. On December 22, the East Bay Division of the Redwood Empire Association will present "Hansel and Gretel" with a cast of 20. The child's classic will be presented in the Gold Room of the Claremont in two shows — 1:30 p.m and 4 p.m. . . . Chef Ceferino Malabed at Lew Lehr's was so excited, a few nights ago, that Lew had to step in and take charge of the steaks. Ceferino became the papa that night of a girl, Christine, to keep company with his three-year-old son, Anthony.

Larry Bertolucci

WHEN IT COMES TO SPECIALIZING IN FOOD, NICK'S in Pacifica does just that in steaks and seafood. The selective menu is far out of the ordinary, as is the scenic view afforded from the dining room and bar. Owners Nick Gust and his wife, Lorraine, enjoy a thriving and consistent business. It's here that the civic leaders gather for banquets and pre-election conflabs. Verna Wales entertains at the organ nightly; dancing to Bill Kane's 3 Beats on weekends, with Mary Ann Hay on vocals . Taking it's place as one of the "seafood headquarters of the Peninsula" on Fridays is the Villa Chartier, which now features a complete selection of delicious seafood entrees: Live Maine lobster, fresh by jet plane daily, original Hawaiian Mahi Mahi with Papaya and cocoanut and famed Apalachicola Bay oysters on the half shell which arrive fresh every morning direct from Apalachicola Bay, Florida. Plan to make Villa Chartier your Friday "dine out" seafood restaurant. Luncheon here starts at $1.65

Nick Gust

RAYMOND COOK, manager of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, is a very busy man at this time of year. For friendship sake, he helps many of his friends decorate their home for the Christmas season. Considering he also tends to the hotel's holiday decor, he has little time left for Christmas shopping. . . . Keith's Chicken and Steak House was "picked clean," last weekend, by home delivery orders. "This is something I should have started long ago," claims the restaurateur. . . . New hours at the Vagabond Chuck Wagon are getting the crowds in early. This is especially good for the youngsters, who can enjoy dinner and be home in bed at an early hour. . . .The way Uncle John's Pancake House menu is expanding, it wouldn't surprise me if they soon added full course dinners. The pancake parade here can't be beat—and what a selection! . . . Steak 'n' eggs is still a pop call at the 24-hour-a-day Tip Top restaurant. . . .Many fine reports on the food and service at Walter's in Redwood City. The early-evening cocktail set has made this one of its "must stops." Bar drinks only .50 cents up to 6 p.m.

Raymond Cook

EDEE GRANT, former owner of Grant's Charcoal Broiler, is now hosting for the new Edgemar restaurant in Pacifica — which is celebrating its grand opening—tonight and Saturday and Sunday nights. Formerly called Frazier's, the Edgemar is completely remodeled and offers a most selective menu. New owners are Larry Shulman and Bob Bly. Jean Ortet entertains at the piano-bar Wednesday through Saturday . . . No business lull at the South San Francisco Holiday Inn. Banquets galore and capacity room occupancy. Owners Jerry and Fred Rapp have blue print plans for a 1964 addition to the Inn . . . The Char-Pit's Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Family Dinner Special is keeping the dining room wall-to-wall with satisfied customers. Note the price in the advertisement . . .

Fred Rapp

Hillsdale Inn
New Year Special

New look at the Hillsdale Inn—personnel and entertainment-wise. New owners are Roy E. Nelson and Fred Williams; Alex Hoeffer is general manager.

Plans for New Year's Eve include dancing in the Lancaster Room to the Norseman orchestra. The lower floor will feature strolling troubadors. The tab for the festive evening will be nine dollars per person — which includes a full course dinner and the noise making trimmings. All drinks will be priced at .90 cents (no exceptions). Plenty of free parikng.

A unique feature at Phil Lehr's Steakery is a signal light at each table. When you want your waitress, you touch it, it blinks and your waitress is right there.

Licata Family

You don't have to drive into San Francisco for cracked crab and other ocean treats. Just stop by Vince Licata's El Camino Real restaurant and seafood depot for Fisherman's Wharf atmosphere and the food to match. Eat in or take out is no problem here—the Licata family is at your service.

Jimmy Pederson is the new organist providing the entertainment Wednesday through Sunday at the Brentwood Lodge.

Sign in Romano's bar in Pacifica: 49er Special: "Old Gran-Dad on the Rocks." At this stage of the game, it sounds like the truth.

"The Senator" and his merry Calypso Crew will be on hand at the Hyatt House in Burlingame tonight through Monday, Dec. 16.

Sheraton-Villa Christmas Dinner

Christmas dinner will be served at the Sheraton-Villa Hotel from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.; entertainment an added attraction. Suggestion: If you're planning to spend New Year's here, make reservations now. According to General Manager Frank Dennison, the "black book" is filling fast.

Visit Barney's

When you're away for a weekend, or an even longer vacation, be sure to visit Barney's Casino located on the south end of beautiful Lake Tahoe. The newly remodeled upper level includes a bar, restaurant, card room and seating space galore for Keno players.

The lower level is also the answer to a vacation time of fun in Nevada.

Caravan Inn Plans Big New Year's Eve Party

Last week in BRIGHT LIGHTS I promised to let you know what Betty Sedam, general manager of the Caravan Inn, planned for New Year's Eve—and here it is: A special party will be presented on that eve for just $25.00 per couple—which includes all taxes, a delicious full course champagne dinner, and all the noise makers and other fun gimmicks that go to make the year a new one. There will be two dance bands to play for dancing and a floor show. Formful Vienna Watkins, one of a bevy of beauties who make up Betty Sedam's Caravan Inn staff, will assist in the evening hostess duties. The coffee shop will remain open until 3 a.m.; ample parking space—both in and out of the "Inn." Make reservations for this special party right now. 948-0404 will reserve your table . . . Cafe El Portal has featured dance music ever since the San Francisco restaurant opened. You're sure to enjoy your evening out when selecting this well known restaurant for dining or cocktails.

VIENNA WATKINS

BERNIE KAHN, Redwood City Tin Pan Alley boss, is smiles from ear-to-ear because his current show, featuring Mel Young and Evana, is a business stand-out. Lots of comment on Mel Young's version of "Hey There," and formful Evana's gowns and vocals. Kinda look for Bernie to hold this team over through the New Year . . . Two dining rooms, pianobar entertainment, fast counter service, and a fireplace cocktail lounge complete Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake package . . . Morocco Room Jimmy Romanello seldom misses the opening night appearances of big names in show business. His latest a visit to the Fairmont Hotel, where Pat Suzuki gives out in the Venetian Room . . . Milt Tonini, as usual, has something different on the agenda at his PrincetonInn. Instead of the usual early dinner on New Year's Eve, he will serve a midnite buffet spread. Dancing and fun leading up to the midnight hour. When the stroke of 12 midnight rolls around there should be a lot of happy people ready for the buffet spread . . . Many of the decorations at Richard and Florence Ho's China Garden were brought over from Hong Kong, where they also operated a restaurant.

NANCY NIESE
731 Pico Avenue
San Mateo, California

Nancy is a Girl Scout and likes drawing, ice-skating and swimming. She has a dog named "Mimi". Nancy writes, "Christmas to me is a time when everyone has a warm heart for others. It is when we give to others to show our love for them. It's also when we worship Christ in our own ways. Christmas is truly a happy time for every family." This is what Christmas means to ten year old Nancy who is a fifth grader at Meadow Heights School.

DAVE DeANTONI
1520 PALM AVENUE
SAN MATEO, CALIFORNIA

Dave is nine years old and in the fourth grade at Hayward Park School. He likes to play baseball and watch his favorite team, the S. F. Giants. Dave writes, "Its means decorating our house and tree real pretty. It means having a big dinner for our family, relatives and close friends. It means sending and receiving beautiful Christmas cards from our friends and relatives in this country and foreign countries. It means singing pretty Christmas carols and since it is Jesus' Birthday it is a time to be jolly. And most important, it means giving and receiving Christmas presents, and taking presents to school for the Toys for Tots collection." 'This is what Christmas means to me."
